

The city's annual November leaf collection provides a valuable service to Pullman residents. The leaves are composted by the city parks department, resulting in more beautiful parklands and public areas.