

The City of Pullman Police Department Code Enforcement Division is in charge of enforcement in several different areas. The officers handle all parking issues including downtown parking enforcement, abandoned and junk vehicle enforcement, animal control, and nuisance code enforcement. They are also responsible for the placement of the large orange reader boards and the small radar trailer you may have seen around town and during special events.

The Pullman Police Department employs three full time Code Enforcement Officers. Officer Elizabeth Schaeffer and Officer Sharon Schnebly handle all of the code enforcement issues, and Officer Gary Labusohr is in charge of downtown parking enforcement.

In addition to their regular patrol duties, Officers Schaeffer and Schnebly are also available to speak to groups to help educate citizens on the city ordinances pertaining to code enforcement.
