The Pullman Police Department Detective Division is comprised of (4) Officers and (1) Sergeant. The Detectives are rotated through the division from patrol and are assigned major criminal investigations that require special expertise and/or those that are too complex for patrol to investigate appropriately in a timely manner.

The typical investigations handled by the Detective Division are; Death Investigations, Child Sexual/Physical Abuse cases, Felony level Narcotics Investigations, Armed Robberies, major Assaults, Kidnapping and Missing Juvenile cases, Serial cases and other high profile investigations.

Pullman Detectives receive additional training while assigned to the division and generally work toward a specialty within the division such as; narcotics investigation, sexual assault investigations, white collar crime, and internet crimes against children.
