

There are many opportunities to volunteer to work with or in the Pullman Police Department. Current opportunities include:

- Reserve Police Officer Program
- WSU Police Intern
- Pullman Police Advisory Committee
- Police Chaplain Program

Click on any link above or scroll down for additional information on these opportunities.

Reserve Police Officer

The Pullman Police Department offers the opportunity to those interested in serving as a law enforcement officer, while still working in their current line of employment or attending classes full time. The Pullman Police Department Reserve Police Officer program was established for the purpose of providing volunteer police personnel to supplement the regular police force, benefiting both the City and the reserve personnel. For more information, see the Reserve Officer web page here.

Back to Top

WSU Police Intern Program

While the Pullman Police Department does not operate an intern program, the Washington State University \(WSU\) Police Department does. WSU PD Interns work with both the WSU and Pullman Police Departments.

The WSU Police Intern Program is a cooperative effort between WSU's Criminal Justice Program and local law enforcement agencies. Volunteer interns can receive academic credit in the academic program. Students interested in law enforcement-related careers gain valuable experience and knowledge by working with commissioned police officers while they perform their law enforcement duties. Students can participate in specialized training and contribute to the Pullman community. For more information, see the WSU PD Intern web page by clicking here

Back to Top

Pullman Police Advisory Committee

For more information on the Pullman Police Advisory Committee, see the committee website by clicking here .

Back to Top

Chaplain Program

For more information on the Pullman Police Department's Chaplain Program, see the Chaplain page by clicking here .

Back to Top
